Society of American Military Engineers Inducts Local Engineer into Academy of Fellows

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 7, 2010

(FORT SHAFTER, HI NR 10-10) The Society of American Military Engineers (SAME) recently inducted retired U.S. Army Lt. Col. Todd Barnes, P.E. along with 25 other SAME members into its Academy of Fellows (AOF). Since 1972, SAME has bestowed the designation of Fellow on SAME members who have rendered dedicated service to SAME and to military engineering.

Barnes has been an officer of the SAME Honolulu Post for the past 10 years and also has served the engineering community in positions of leadership with the Hawaii Council of Engineering Societies, which represents 17 engineering societies and the University of Hawaii's College of Engineering. He is currently Chief, Engineering and Construction Division, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Honolulu District.

SAME was established in 1920 as a forum to unite public and private sectors to promote and facilitate engineering support for national security. For more information on SAME, go to www.same.org; for more information on the Academy of Fellows, go to www.same.org/fellows
